

Christina Sjoberg Senior Consultant

Christina Sjoberg is a Senior Consultant in the Exhibition Studio. Christina holds a Bachelor of Science from the University of Toronto, where she completed an Honours degree in Psychology and specialized in learning. Her passion for teaching and coordinating educational programs for all ages has brought Christina around the world. She has been immersed in culturally diverse educational programming methods in Toronto, Morocco, Scotland and Taiwan, and brings this unique experience to her projects at Lord Cultural Resources.

All of Christina's past experiences have developed and strengthened her unique sensitivity and adaptability for creating programs for all ages. Christina's first-hand experience as an educator enables her to accommodate individual learning styles in her exhibition planning process. A skilled communicator, she listens carefully to clients' needs and responds with enthusiasm, dedication and creativity. Christina enjoys working with clients and developing strategies for incorporating their research, expertise and knowledge into the exhibition planning and design process.

As a member of the Exhibition Studio, she creates interpretive plans that present and organize content in interesting and thought provoking ways. Christina's ability to understand the needs of both the client and the audience ensures that the right balance between information and learning is met.

Christina has a keen desire to create meaningful experiences for all ages in exhibitions that are engaging and significant to everyone, everywhere. Christina is perceptive and sensitive to the multiple needs of the individual and ensures that each project results in a place that nurtures a passion for life-long learning.
